What Is the Charter Review Committee?

The Charter Review Committee (CRC) is a seven-member resident group appointed and ratified by the Town Council every six years. Over the course of approximately one year, the Committee reviews the Bridgewater Town Charter – the towns foundational governing document, or in other words, the ‘Constitution of Bridgewater’ – and the Committee may recommend updates for consideration. Read the full charter (pages 17 – 48) online by navigating to www.bridgewaterma.gov > Government > Town Council > Town Code/Home Rule Charter
